

Miami Dade College

Associate in Science in Building Construction Technology

The Associate in Science in Building Construction Technology is designed to provide students with practical, hands-on training to learn the skills necessary to obtain employment in the highly competitive fields of Architecture and Construction Management. Students will learn to use the latest technologies in state-of-the-art facilities, giving them the knowledge and experience they will need to successfully achieve their academic goals and professional aspirations.

Earth Science Institute: Photovoltaic Workshops for Homeowners

- Basic Electricity for Photovoltaic Systems
- Introduction to Designing Photovoltaic Systems
- Designing Advanced Photovoltaic Systems
- Introduction to Installing Photovoltaic Systems
- Installing Advanced Photovoltaic Systems

Professional Development: Green Technology Institute